Read to Kids Zone restocked with books from foundation

Above, Kathryn Atwood, a Viking Vision Career Academy student at Grayling High School, has volunteered her time to inventory the new books for the Read to Kids Zone.

The Crawford County Probate Court recently received dozens of books from the New York-based Lisa's Libraries Foundation for the Read to Kids Zone after submitting a successful grant application.

The Read to Kids Zone is located in the lobby of the Crawford County Courthouse.

The court recently received about 150 new children's books from Lisa's Libraries, which was the second grant awarded to the court from the foundation.

The Read to Kids Zone was initiated in an effort to redirect children, who found themselves present in the courthouse for various reasons, away from the court Atwood's career goal, which is proceedings.

Since its inception about two years ago, through the cooperative efforts of the Crawford County Probate Court, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, the Friends of the Crawford County Library System and Lisa's Libraries, the Read to Kids Zone has distributed over 300 books to children visiting the courthouse and county building.

Kathryn Atwood, a Viking Vision Career Academy student at Grayling High School, has volunteered her time to inventory the new Read to Kids Zone books. This experience is a nice fit with to attend college and enter a profession that counsels children and advocates for their wellbeing.

"When this project began, we did not fully know whether it would be embraced by the children and parents coming to court," said Chief Probate/District Court Judge Monte J. Burmeister. "However, judging by the number of books put in the hands of young children coming to the courthouse over the last two years, it's fair to say this initiative meets a great need in the community and does a good job promoting literacy amongst our young children."

Getting out to enjoy a snowy experience

Old man winter walloped the Crawford County area with six to 10 inches of snow last Thursday and Friday, said Andrew Sullivan, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service Office located just south of Gaylord. The snow was a new experience for Karen, Dougles and Derek Whipple, who moved to Grayling in November from an area in the State of Washington, where they didn't get snow. Just over 100 jurors reported for their civic duty Tuesday for a trial for a 71-yearold Frederic man who is accused of shooting and killing his brother over the 2011 Fourth of July weekend.

The two-week trial for Paul Barry Easterle began on Tuesday at the Crawford County Courthouse.

Mark Easterle, 60, was shot and killed by his brother around 6:10 p.m. on Sunday, July 3.

Crawford County Sheriff Kirk A. Wakefield said the incident started with the brothers arguing over an issue regarding another family member.

Easterle faces murder-second degree, domestic violence and felonious assault and assault with a dangerous weapon charges. He could be sentenced to up to life in prison, if convicted.

Grayling attorney Adam Vernon tried to get charges lowered to manslaughter at a preliminary examination in August, arguing Easterle was acting in self defense.

Beaver Creek Township seeks to close cat rescue operation

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

The last ditch efforts for the owner of a non-profit cat haven being able to scratch and claw her way to maintain operations look slim in Crawford County Circuit Court.

Beaver Creek Township filed a lawsuit against resident Delores Guay, seeking to have her Leaning Oaks Cat Haven cease operations. If the township prevails, Guay would be allowed to keep four cats as pets and would have to stop her efforts of spaying and neutering feral cats and finding them homes.

Guay started the Leaning Oaks Cat Haven in 2007. She obtained a license to operate the facility through the Michigan Department of Agriculture and gained nonprofit status as a rescue operation.

In 2009, Beaver Creek Township planners denied a special use permit for Guay, essentially shutting down the non-profit cat rescue operation. Beaver Creek Township Zoning Gerald Administrator Balmes recommended Guay to seek a special use permit to have a home occupation business after receiving several complaints from neighbors about feral cats around her property Guay's property is located in a residentially zoned neighborhood, where the operation of a business is prohibited, with the exception of a home occupation.

Guay applied to have the cat haven considered as a home business, feline rescue, trapping and adoption and monthly shot clinic under township regulations.

Creek Beaver The Planning Township Commission ruled that the Leaning Oaks Cat Haven did not qualify as a home occupation and denied her request for a special use 46th Circuit Trial Court Crawford County Animal trial.

Judge Dennis F. Murphy ruled that Guay exhausted her right to appeal the decision of the Beaver Creek Township's Planning Commission to the local court system.

Last July, Michigan Court of Appeals Justices ruled that Murphy was correct in deciding the court had no jurisdiction over the matter. The Justices also said Murphy was accurate to rule that Guay failed to exhaust her administrative remedies in a timely manner. Finally, they ruled that Guay's claim should be barred and considered a collateral attack on the commission's planning decision.

At the time of the ruling, Guay had adopted out 49 cats over the years, but still had 29 cats in her care.

Now, Beaver Creek Township is seeking a motion of summary disposition from Murphy, which would force the closure of the cat haven.

Grayling Attorney Adam Vernon is still trying to have the cat rescue considered as a home occupation serving the community and the cats that are there are like those kept at an animal shelter.

"They've taken away every right she has to run business," Vernon her argued.

Vernon is seeking civil discovery and court depositions from Gail Foguth, the Control Officer, and Joe Crawford the Duran, Building and County Zoning Director. He said their interpretations would help him form a factual basis to find a remedy for the zoning dispute.

Gerard Brabant, Roscommon attorney representing Beaver Creek Township, said more evidence is not needed for the township to make its case.

"We don't need discovery," Brabant said. "This is a no-brainer."

Murphy said Vernon could take the the depositions, but was unclear how productive they would be in deciding the zoning dis-

"Their opinions don't matter," Murphy "Their opinions are independent."

Vernon also requested that the issue go before a jury. Murphy said any ruling in the case would come from the bench.

"This is a zoning case," Murphy said. "I've never heard of a jury trial in a zoning case in my entire

Murphy did move the next date for the case from Feb. 9 to 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 21. The judge adjourned the hearing because Vernon is handling a two-week murder trial for Frederic resident Paul Barry Easterle, which started on Tuesday, Jan. 17. Murphy is the judge for the Council approves ordinance changes

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

Just as political campaigns start to ramp up, Graying City officials have made changes to zoning regulating signs along with tweaking ordinances regarding fences and parking.

Grayling Council, at a meeting last week, approved recommendations from the Grayling Planning Commission regarding signs, fences and parking.

First, the sign ordinance was amended to allow LED (light-emitting diode) signs and message signs, which were precluded previously in the ordinance.

Next, signs will also be able to be placed on trucks, cars or wheeled vehicle to help promote a business or event.

Political signs will be allowed to be displayed in the city if the campaign pays a refundable deposit to the city. The deposit fee, which has yet to be determined, will be refunded if the signs are pulled five days after the election, said Zac Weaver, the planning and zoning administrator for the City of Grayling. If a city employee has to yank the signs, the deposit will be forfeited.

"To have someone go out there and get the signs, it got to be pretty costly," Weaver said.

The same regulations will apply to temporary signage for businesses and special events. A business will be able to have temporary signage for 30 days, four times a year, rather than being restricted to just 45 days throughout the year. A deposit will have to be paid to the city. Signs for special events, such as a circus, will also require a deposit, and will have to be pulled five days after the event.

City planners also recommended changes for fencing around homes. Previously, the ordinance allowed six foot fences on the back of a homeowners property and four foot fences on side yards. The ordinance now allows six foot fences on the side yards. Weaver said homeowners requested the taller fences because they feared their dogs would jump the fences and wanted some added security.

"Privacy was a big issue," Weaver said.

The six foot side fences must be placed near the edge of the home rather than at the property boundary to preserve the aesthetics of the neighborhoods and provide better visibility when driving onto city streets, Weaver said.

Finally, parking on city streets is now prohibited from 3 a.m. to 6 a.m. between Nov. 1 and April 30 to allow for snow removal. In the remainder of the year, parking will be allowed on city streets and city parking lots.

Weaver said the change was made because contractors working on apartment complexes and homes in the community were being ticketed for violating the ordinance in the spring and summer months.

Food distribution is rescheduled

by Dan Sanderson

Staff Writer

The distribution of free perishable food, which was cancelled last week due to inclement weather, has been rescheduled for Tuesday.

10 tons of perishable food available through the Frederic Food Bank on Tuesday, Jan. 24 in the Grayling High School parking lot.

Food, including yogurt, other milk-based products, bread and apples will be available, said Clyde Holzbauer, coordinator for the Frederic Food Bank.

The food distribution was scheduled to be held on Friday, Jan. 13. The distribution was called off because the driver of the semi truck returned to Flint due to slip-The Food Bank of pery roads. Crawford Eastern Michigan is making AuSable Schools were also called off that day.

Holzbauer was able to negotiate a second load of food for the needy in Crawford County with the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan.

"I don't want to refuse 10 tons of food so we'll give it another shot," Holzbauer

People coming to get the food are encouraged to bring large boxes and to ensure they have proper storage for the perishable items, Holzbauer said.

The food will be distributed from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Holzbauer encouraged people to come right when the distribution begins.

"The food will be distributed on a first-come-firstserve basis, but people don't need to come and sit in their cold cars for two hours," Holzbauer said.

Frederic receives federal grant funds

Looking more and more like Romney is in

MORE AND MORE it looks like the Republican presidential nomination of Michigan native and former Massachusetts Gov. Mitt Romney will happen.

The original field of GOP hopefuls is shrinking by the day.

Former Utah Gov. Jon Huntsman is the latest potential Republican candidate to bite the dust. Just days before the critical South Carolina primary, Mr. Huntsman decided to pull out of the race ... and endorse Mitt Romney for the nomination.

In a way, that's too bad. Mr. Huntsman's first extensive exposure to the campaign public was the New Hampshire primary, and quite a few folks like what they heard and saw of the former ambassador to China.

Perhaps the New Hampshire attraction of Mr. Huntsman was precisely because until then he had avoided the middle of the candidate wars, and his ideas and demeanor appeared fresh, reasonable and believable, especially considering the muddy crossfire and dogfights the other Republican candidates have endured.

Although he didn't win in New Hampshire – Mr. Romney did, with Ron Paul in second – for a virtual campaign non-entity, Jon Huntsman attracted a respectable following.

Mr. Huntsman won 17 percent of the New Hampshire vote, almost twice as much as candidates Newt Gingrich and Rick Santorum, with Rick Perry lagging far, far behind.

What next for Jon Huntsman? Certainly not as vice president on a Romney ticket; both are Mormons, and for some reason that's the only religion that has come under fire from several fringes during this campaign.

But there will be 2016 or even 2020. As Mr. Romney has proved this year, losing a try for the presidential nomination can be a strong learning experience, and maybe even an asset the next time you try it

THE OTHER non-Romney candidates, meanwhile, are humming a song of reconciliation.

If former Gov. Romney wins in South Carolina's primary, former Speaker Gingrich, former Sen. Santorum and Texas Gov. Perry may come to the conclusion that dividing the non-Romney vote means none of them can rise far enough to stem the trend.

His opponents paint Mr. Romney as a moderate and closet Democrat, and each claims to be the soul of the conservative majority of Republicans.

While attacking candidate Romney's record and programs, the troika is splitting the support of Republican social conservatives, and the Romney lead grows.

The logical step would be for Romney opponents to join forces behind a single candidate, but that would mean that the others must give up their shot at the White House. In politics that's not likely. Running for any political office requires a large dose of egotism, and the larger the office, the larger ego is required.

Even if the race narrows down to a single "social conservative" favorite from among the non-Romney wing, the race for the nomination still could go to Mitt Romney, who has conducted an effective campaign so far and has the organization and finances to plow through to the end.

AFTER THE SMOKE clears from whatever really happens in South Carolina, the next step is Florida. The Republican field may not be so large there.

Decision time actually may extend to Michigan's February 28 primary, which would be the only thing to make the statewide election meaningful to most Michigan veters.

A primary, of course, is really not an election at all. Instead it is a function of the political party structure.

The February 28 voting may include local or school questions in some places, but not everywhere. In the township where I live, the only question on the ballot is the presidential primary question. The voter must choose either a Republican or a Democrat ballot, but cannot have both.

The Republican ballot will include 11 candidates for president, including those who have dropped out voluntarily – Herman Cain, Michelle Bachman and Jon Huntsman – and even one – former Gov. Gary Johnson of New Mexico – who decided to run for president in November on the Libertarian Ticket instead. Also is a box entitled "Undecided," which the voter may check.

The Democratic ballot will contain only the name of President Barack Obama, plus the "Undecided" option.

Michigan Democrats, however, do not sanction the statewide primary, and plan to select Mr. Obama as their candidate and his delegates at party caucuses on May 5, so any votes for President Obama or "Undecided" on Feb. 8 won't count anyway.

The Michigan primary will be a very expensive exercise in citizen participation in the political process.

The most recent presidential primary four years ago — which turned out to be useless in selecting a candidate, as this one probably will, too — cost taxpayers about $10 million, and this year it's expected to cost as much or maybe even more.

January is School Board Recognition Month

January is School Board Recognition Month - a time to salute the work of school board members and celebrate public education.

The theme "School Boards LeadStrong," reflects our combined commitment to leadership and accountability, assuring that all children succeed.

In the COOR I.S.D. area, school board members must develop policies and make tough decisions that help shape the future of our education system. They bear responsibility for annual budgets, students, employees and school buildings. They are citizens whose decisions affect our children and build our communities.

The boards of education, and the hundreds like them across the state, preserve the core of our democracy - public education. They ensure that decisions on school programming are made by people we've elected to represent our community's values, culture and circumstances.

Showing appreciation for the important work of school boards should be a year-round process, but too often we neglect to recognize the dedication and hard work of these men and women who represent us. This January, the staff and students of our district are asking that all members of the community to take a moment and thank a school board member.

Thank you to the men and women dedicate countless personal hours to ensure the needs of our community are met by our public schools. We salute the public school board members whose dedication and civic responsibility make local control of public schools in our community possible. We applaud them for their vision and voice to help shape a better tomor-

Private enterprise or government bureaucracy?

To the editor:

In Grayling and Grayling Township we have an excellent ambulance service company. Independently owned MMR has provided expert, dependable service to our community for 11 years. Eleven years without a single formal complaint from anyone.

There is no cost to us in the form of fees or tax millage. Why, then, would we ever even consider swapping this great tax free service for a township government run fire department ambulance service located 10 miles away in Frederic?

If they were allowed into our area to take business away from MMR, how long before MMR would just leave town? That would leave us at the mercy of Frederic.

Residents of Frederic and Maple Forest Township pay a millage to help support why, then, would they continue to supply free service to us? How long before they decide that we must pay also for their service?

Remember, we have no voice and cannot vote in Frederic. I have never seen any government bureaucracy that successfully competed with the private sector. Try comparing the failing US Postal Service with the very successful UPS or Fed-Ex companies.

Wednesday, Feb. 15, 10 a.m. is the date for the next Grayling Township Board meeting. Be there. Tell them, we don't want a government run ambulance service from another township, especially one 10 miles away.

Keep our local independent, proven, no millage service we have now.

The Bible Speaks

Injury in the Kingdom

In Romans 14:17 God taught us that His kingdom is not non-essentials like food and drink, but spiritual essentials like righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. He taught us in Romans 14:18 that if we serve Christ by applying these principles in our lives we will be acceptable to God and approved of men. He taught us in Romans 14:19 to live our lives seeking peace with and edification of others in His kingdom. Now in Romans 14:20 God warns us not to injure His Kingdom by destroying others by seeking a selfish, careless approach stressing non-essentials. "20For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence."

First, the danger to the work of God by stressing nonessentials.. - "20For meat destroy not the work of God...." We saw in Romans 14:1-3 how division over nonessentials can divide the church. The strong despises the weak, and the weak judges the strong. We were warned in Romans 14:15: "15But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died." By destroying the faith of the weak brother, we also hinder God's plan and purpose in his salvation. Choices over nonessential food has destroyed many. Hebrews 12:16 teaches us that Esau sold his birthright for "one morsel of meat." Israel's lust after meat brought God's judgment upon them in Psalm 78:30,31.

Second, the distinctiveness of non-essentials. -"....All things indeed are pure..." This is true from God's creation of all things in Genesis 1:31: "31And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day." Also see Genesis 9:3: "3Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things." 1 Corinthians 8:8 reminds us our choice of meat does not affect our standing with God. "8But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse." 1 Timothy 4:4 teaches the same truth: "4For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving." Colossians 2:16 reminds us not to judge people on non-essentials: "16Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days."

Third, the destruction of abusing non-essentials -"....but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence." The strong believer can mislead a weak believer in nonessentials. The strong by offending a weak believer destroys the work of Christ. As 1 Corinthians 8:12 warmed us. "12But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ." This is why we are taught in 1 Corinthians 10:31,32 we are in all things to glorify God and avoid offending "31Whether therefore ye cat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. 32Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God." We should follow our Lord in Romans 15:3. Pastor

AuSable Artisan Village has stout plans for 2012

The AuSable Artisan Village (AAV) met or exceeded most of it goals for 2011 and expects 2012 to be even better.

AAV signed a lease for the old Ben Franklin building on Michigan Avenue in downtown Grayling on April 12, 2011. In six weeks and hundreds of volunteer hours, the non-profit arts organization was able to open the doors to a 5,000 square foot art center by Memorial Day. In six months, the art center was able to sell over 1,000 original works of art and paid over $20,000 to the artists for their consignments. Workshops and art classes brought in nearly $2,000 more.

Dr. Tom Quinn, the president of Kirtland Community College was the visionary who in early 2010, introduced the idea that the arts could become a significant economic driver in Grayling. In February, more than 120 local citimans gathered at the Ramada Inn conference room to form committees to begin to move the vision forward. Broad community support in both memberships and contributions laid the financial foundation to lease and make the necessary improvements to make use of a building that had stood empty for nearly a decade.

In September of that year, the newly formed AuSable Artisan Village merged with the two-yearold Watershed Art Project to form a new board and then filed documents to amend the non-profit corporate papers to reflect the AuSable Artisan Village name. The IRS 501-c3 status is pending.

Not only has AAV renovated the old Ben Franklin, artist, Kim Diment and photographer, Ken Wright leased space in Gamble's Corner and opened the Main Branch Art Gallery giving Grayling two art outlets in the downtown. Kirtland Community College continues to move forward on Dr. Quinn's vision of the "Sand River Gallery" a state-of-the-art multi-use arts and education facility. A feasibility study has been completed, architectural plans are being drawn up and land acquisition is being consid-

January is the beginning AuSable Artisan Village's 2012 membership drive. On Feb. 11, the Art Center will present a Valentine's Day jazz and blues concert featuring a duo known as "Marcie." In March, there will be a St. Patrick's Day concert with a Celtic trio consisting of Dan House, Kelley Shively and Pam Luce.

Five Grayling Boy Scouts attain Eagle Scout rank

Grayling Boy Scout Troop #995 had five members reach Eagle Scout, the highest rank in scouting, in 2011.

Tom Pilon, brothers Nathen and Eric Chad, and brothers Corey and Aaron Kiessel all completed requirements for scouting's top rank.

"All five serve as remarkable role models for our younger scouts," Scoutmaster Greg Creel. "Nationally, only about four percent of all Boy Scouts achieve the highest rank of Eagle Scout."

To become an Eagle Scout, a boy must progress through various ranks along the way and then earn 21 merit badges, hold leadership positions in his troop, complete a significant community service project and pass the Eagle board of

All of the work must be completed by age 18, except for boys with disabilities.

Merit badges include a wide-range of subject matter such as hiking, camping, environment, money management, personal management, fitness, citizenship, swimming, first aid, sciences, hobbies and many more. All five are members of the Order of the Arrow, scouting's honor service society. All five young men earned more than the minimum 21 merit badges required with Eric Chad earning the most - 45 and counting.

Like all scouts, each scout engaged in service to the community in addition to taking on leadership roles and organizing an Eagle service project. Eric Chad and Tom Pilon's Eagle service project consisted of organizing and implementing the reintroduction of oak trees into the Deward Tract, a state-owned special management area in the northwest part of Crawford County.

Nathan Chad's service project was to make improvements to the signs, benches, parking lot and walking trail in the historic Plantation Industrial Drive in Grayling.

Corey Kiessel's project was to establish a flower garden at Mercy Manor and his brother Aaron constructed storage structures for the residents of Mercy Manor. The entire troop helped on each Eagle project.

Grayling Troop #995 is chartered through Air Way Automation, Inc. Grayling.

Scout meetings are on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Air Way. New scouts are welcome. For more information call Greg Creel at 745-3033 or Jack Pilon at 348-8187.

GUDA calls it quits

After some of the original members moved on, the Downtown Merchants Association became known at the Community Self Improvement Project. The idea was to spread the focus to include businesses on the I-75 Business Loop and other outlying areas in Crawford County.

That initiative only lasted for a couple of years.

"At that time, it sounded good, but there still was the same handful of us that were doing everything," Dawson said.

GUDA was then formed to bring the focus on merchants in Grayling, but some business owners in outlying area were still involved with the organization.

Over the years, GUDA would plan and hold sidewalk sales, harvest festivals, ugliest tie contests, spring flings, winter carnivals, winter parades and snow sculptures in the city park.

"We were always pulling together something," Dawson said.

Dawson also recalled GUDA's annual meetings, at the Chief Shoppenagon's Motor Hotel, which would draw dozens of community members together for an evening.

"We would honor our employees and make a fun night out of it," Dawson said. "It was quite an ordeal."

The Christmas Walk remained GUDA's premiere

"The Christmas Walk was our baby and we got it to grow to where it is today," Dawson said.

Over the years, Dawson said GUDA was very active in the community.

"We realized we needed to work together in order to make it work," Dawson said. "Merchants sometimes feel like they can be on an island by themselves and make it work and it just doesn't happen in a small town."

In recent years, only a few people would attend GUDA meetings, which were held twice a month.

The organization decided to disband and now the planning of the Christmas Walk will be taken over by the City of Grayling's Downtown Development Authority (DDA).

The DDA includes property located between M-72 East and M-72 West.

"We hope that we can plan and hold more events through the DDA that will draw people to town and help out our businesses and community," said City Grayling Manager/Police Chief Doug Baum.

Board changes meeting schedule

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners will have the same leadership for 2012, but will have different meeting times and dates. Dave Stephenson, the chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, was elected last year to serve his twovear term as the leader of the board.

Commissioner Rick Anderson was given the nod by fellow commissioners to continue serving as the board's vice-chairman at the board's organizational meeting earlier this month.

The only major changes slated for the county board is the times and dates it will meet.

The board will hold its law enforcement, personnel and labor, ways and means committee meetings at 5:30 p.m. on the second Thursday month. each Commissioner Shelley

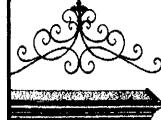

Pinkelman will continue to serve as chairwoman of the law enforcement committee, while Anderson will maintain his position as chairman of the personnel and labor committee. Commissioner Kathy Rogers will retain her position as chairwoman of the ways and means committee, which addresses financial, policy and budget

The regular meetings for the Crawford County Board of Commissioners will be held at 5:30 p.m. on the fourth Thursday of the month.

The regular meeting in November will be moved to Thursday, Nov. 29 due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

The board opted to change its meeting times and dates to accommodate the employment status of a commissioner.

The next regular meeting for the county board will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 26.

Grayling High School's varsity wrestling squad won both of its matches during a four-team double-dual meet at Houghton Lake High School on Wednesday night, defeating the short-handed Bobcats by a large margin and edging Clare by one point in a series that came down to the final weight class.

First, Grayling wrestled against the Pioneers of Clare. The teams started at 215 pounds, a weight class that Clare won by pin. The Pioneers also scored a pin in the heavyweight division to lead 12-0.

Neither team had a wrestler at 103.

Erin Messerschmidt (112) won by default. Cody Elmy (119) also won by default, tying the score at 12-12.

Ghayge Toomey (125) pinned his Clare counterpart in the second round to give Grayling an 18-12 advantage. Zack Cheney (130) won by decision, 16-3. Danny Schultz (135) won by default.

Grayling led 28-12.

Clare won at 140 and 145. Brandon Handrich won a 9-4 decision in the 152-pound division. The Vikings had a 31-23 lead with three weight classes to go.

Jeff Myers (189), in the last bout of the series, outscored his opponent 19-4, ending the match and scoring five team points for the Vikings.

Grayling won 36-35.

"That was a pretty exciting match," Coach Andy Moore said. "Jeff had to win by at least eight for us to win, and he came through with a big tech fall. Makes for an exciting dual, that's for sure."

varsity boys basketball team lost 62-53 at Traverse City St. Francis on Tuesday night. Both teams were undefeated in league play going into the contest.

"Our team battled in this game throughout the entire contest. I was pleased with the fact that we forced St. Francis into 33 turnovers and held them to 62 points in a game which had a high number of possessions." Coach Rich Moffit said. "Our team also kept its composure throughout the contest, despite not getting many breaks in the game."

Zane Tobin had 10 points and three assists for the Vikings. Devon Dawson had eight points and four steals.

NOTICE OF SHOW CAUSE HEARING AND JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE HEARING for NON-PAYMENT OF PROPERTY TAXES

On March 1, 2011, real estate with unpaid 2009 and/or prior years property taxes was forfeited to the Crawford County Treasurer pursuant to the General Property Tax Act, Public Act 206 of 1893, PA 206, MCL 211.1 to 211.157, as amended.

The Crawford County Treasurer is acting as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit in proceedings to foreclose on properties for unpaid 2009 and/or prior property taxes.

There are two hearings scheduled to finalize the foreclosure process. This publication is intended to provide additional notice to parties of interest in these parcels as to the nature, time, and location of these hearings.

A Show Cause Hearing is scheduled for 9:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. January 18, 2012 at the Office of the County Treasurer, Crawford County Building, 200 W. Michigan Ave., Grayling, MI 49738.

Any person with an interest in the property forfeited to the County Treasurer may appear at the Show Cause Hearing and redeem the property or show cause why absolute title to that property should not vest in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

A Judicial Foreclosure Hearing is scheduled for 8:59 A.M. February 9, 2012 at the Crawford County Building, Circuit Court Room, 200 W. Michigan Ave., Grayling, MI 49738.

At this hearing the Foreclosing Governmental unit shall ask that the court enter a judgment foreclosing property as requested in the petition for foreclosure. A person claiming an interest in a parcel of property set forth in the petition for foreclosure, who desires to contest that petition, must file written objections with the clerk of the 46th Circuit Court, and serve those objections on the Crawford County Treasurer as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit. The Docket number for the Petition is 11-8489-CK.

If you are a person with an interest in property being foreclosed:

- You have the right to redeem this parcel from the foreclosure process by payment of all forfeited unpaid taxes, interest, penalties, and fees prior to the expiration of the redemption period. You should contact the Crawford County Treasurer for the amount required to redeem.
- You may lose your interest in the property as a result of the foreclosure proceeding.
- The title to the property shall vest absolutely in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit unless all forfeited unpaid delinquent taxes, interest, penalties and fees are paid by March 31, 2012.

PLEASE NOTE:

The following list represents parties that appear to have title, lien, or other apparent rights to the parcels being foreclosed by the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

This notice is required to be given by law, even if the party no longer claims or desires an interest if it appears they hold any undischarged, apparent, or potential title or lien right to the property listed.

A listing of a party or person does NOT necessarily indicate that they are the owner of a parcel, or that they are liable for the property taxes.

This list is NOT an offering of property for sale. These parcels are NOT being sold, auctioned, or otherwise made available by virtue of this notice.

There is no procedure for purchasing these parcels from the Foreclosing Governmental Unit at this point in the foreclosure proceedings. Those parcels that are foreclosed and not redeemed may become available at public auction after July of 2012. These parcels remain the property of the current owner until redemption rights have expired. No party or person should make any attempt to inspect or enter upon these parcels assuming them to be for sale. This may constitute trespassing and subject the offender to criminal prosecution. The street address of the parcels listed is based upon local records and is not guaranteed to be the actual location of the property.

The amount due listed indicates the balance which was due as of March 1, 2011. The current amount required to redeem must be obtained from the Crawford County Treasurer, as additional penalties, fees, and interest have accrued since forfeiture.
